Slip into your slinkiest threads for the Valley's finest rooftop retreat, with a competent list of libations, including pickled-onion-pimped martinis and high-flying French champagnes. Drink in the multi-million-dollar view, which takes in the city skyline and Mt Coot-tha beyond, and schmooze to DJ-spun tunes later in the week. Dress code is especially strict on Friday and Saturday evenings; see the website. Mediterranean-inspired dishes are also served, from warm olives and arancini to pasta, grilled fish and slow-cooked lamb. On the Internet, to report is to notify the administrator of a website or application about a problem. On a website that prominently features user-created content, reports are often about harmful posts that violate the terms of service. Reports may also be about a bug that causes certain features to work incorrectly. Many social networking websites and other popular platforms have built-in reporting features. If there is no reporting option, you may want to consider blocking the user who is causing problems or informing the company using an alternative contact method. A list of computer companies, with contact information, is available below. 2. With fields from business to science, a report is a concise summary distilled from a larger set of data, intended for a specific audience. For example, reports may detail the findings of an experiment or inquiry. Based on the report, a company can make business-related decisions to help increase a company's productivity, reduce costs, or improve revenue. Typically most reports are done in a word processor, but could be done in any text editor. With expense reports or reports with values that frequently change or that needs a chart, a report is created as a spreadsheet. When a report is completed and needs to be shared with other users or online, reports are most often shared as a PDF.
